

Honorary Doctorate Degree of Philosophy (Mathematics Education) / Khon Kaen University, Thailand

(2011.12.22)

Associate Professor Masami Isoda of the Graduate School of Comprehensive Human Sciences received the "Honorary Doctorate Degree of Philosophy (Mathematics Education)" from Khon Kaen University, Thailand on December 22.

Awarded the Honorary Doctorate Degree of Philosophy (Mathematics Education) by His Majesty King Bhumibol Adulyadej for following achievements in Khon Kaen University and Thailand: A) Directing the APEC lesson study project under the names of Khon Kaen University and the University of Tsukuba under the governments of Thailand and Japan, B) Working for the Mathematical Association of Thailand and the National Project of the Center of Excellence in mathematics under the Patronage of His Majesty the King and established the essential and fundamental framework for the mathematics education research, school mathematics until university, and C) Contributing for founding the master and doctor program of mathematics education in Faculty of Education of Khon Kaen University and its education.

President Brady J. Deaton (University of Missouri, the United States) and Mr. Suvit Khunkitti (former Education Minister / former Deputy Prime Minister of Kingdom of Thailand) are the co-winners.

Khon Kaen University is one of the major research universities approved by Thai government.

