

Challenge!

Plan lessons that show how thinking skills can be developed using mathematics curriculum topics. They should include:

- high level questions
- cover several competencies per lesson
- anticipate various student responses